

Type Conversion & Coercion in JavaScript

JavaScript is a dynamically typed language, which means it automatically converts data types when needed. This can happen in two ways:

1.Type Conversion (Explicit)

→You convert the type yourself using built-in functions.

2.Type Coercion (Implicit)

→JavaScript automatically converts types behind the scenes during operations.