

Inline vs Internal vs External JavaScript:

- Inline javascript: JavaScript written directly inside an HTML element.

- Internal javascript: JavaScript written inside a <script> tag within the HTML file , usually in the <head> or just before the </body> tag.

- External javascript: JavaScript code is kept in a separate .js file and linked to the HTML with a src attribute.