Function Parameters,Return &Arguments

Parameters:

→Parameters are placeholders in the function definition.

Arguments:

→Arguments are the actual values you give to the function when calling it.

The Return Statement:

→return sends a value back to where the function was called.Without return, the function just does its work but doesn't give anything back.