

Promises in JavaScript

A Promise in JavaScript is an object that represents the result of an asynchronous task (like fetching data, waiting for a timer, reading a file, etc.).

States of a Promise

A promise can be in 3 states:

Pending – The task is still running (not finished yet).

Fulfilled – The task finished successfully (resolved).

Rejected – The task failed (error).